MORE VOLUNTEERS? CAN YOU HELP?

THANK YOU to all those who have come forward to volunteer steward and clean at Masses. At the moment, however, weekday Masses and 5pm Sunday Parish Mass are impossible until more volunteers have come forward. If you can volunteer, either now or in the future, please speak to one of the clergy. More volunteers mean more events. We look forward to announcements later this month that may well relax the need for volunteers

UNIVERSITY CHAPLAINCY MASS IS AT ST JOSEPH'S CHURCH at 1230.

Although for students, anyone is welcome to attend which will help if 1045 remains full. A warm welcome to all students and staff!

ALWAYS REMEMBER THE BASIC COVID RULES

HANDS – sanitise, FACE – wear a face covering over mouth and nose, SPACE – stay AT LEAST 1 metre (or 3 feet) away from people not in your household. Seats must always be 1.5 metres from the aisle and the point of Communion and anyone else not in your household.

Deacon David – white hair and sounding like he comes from Surrey (which he does) – is the Catholic Chaplain to Warwick University and the parish deacon here.

Do say hello and introduce yourselves.

Don't hesitate to be in contact if we can help.

Can YOU help clean or steward? Please tell one of the clergy if so. We hope that pandemic regulations ease in a few weeks, making volunteering less vital. We shall see...

FR STEPHEN WRITES God the Father sets the limits of the sea, and it is certainly beyond man's power to change the tides, to create new oceans or to decide just how far up the beach the water might come. For the Jewish people of Jesus's time, the sea was a vast and terrible place, full of unknown beasts, treacherous rocks and fickle weather.

Even fishing on the Sea of Galilee (in actual fact, a large lake and not a true sea) was bad enough. The weather could change as it came off the mountains. No life jackets, radios or emergency rockets. Just you and an awful lot of water...

No wonder the disciples are terrified in the face of this great storm in today's gospel. Jesus is fast asleep, so they wake Him in their fear. He asks why they should be afraid—have they no faith? And then the waters are calmed, the storm stilled, the wind hushed. And the disciples? Filled with anxiety again—who is this Jesus, they wonder? The God incarnate Who made the seas in the first place: stilling a storm is not beyond Him. But He has come not to control the weather, but to still the storms of human hearts. Guilt, fear, alienation, sin and death. And to lead us to clam of love, hope, joy and peace. As the pandemic eases, may we follow that lead!

FR PETER REFLECTS: Pope Francis calls us to seize the opportunities, for positive personal and societal change, that the present moment brings: Every now and then, however, great calamities awaken the memory of that original liberation and unity. Prophets who have sought to recall the people to what really matters, to its first love, suddenly find eager audiences. Times of tribulation offer the possibility that what oppresses the people – both internally and externally – can be overthrown, and a new age of freedom begin. Such calamities for a time throw us off balance, yet, paradoxically, they can allow a people to recover its memory, and therefore its capacity for action, its hope. Crisis has shown that our peoples are not subject to blind forces but in adversity are capable of acting. Calamities unmask our shared vulnerability and expose those false, superfluous securities around which we had organized our plans, routines, and priorities. They reveal our neglect of what nourishes and strengthens the life of the community, how we had shrivelled within our bubbles of indifference and well-being. We learn that in our restlessness and frustration, in our fascination with new things, in craving recognition in manic busyness, we had failed to pay attention to the suffering all around us. In their response to suffering is measured the authentic character of our peoples. (Let Us Dream, p.98-99).

ZOOM DISCUSSION GROUP on Let Us Dream led by Fr Peter and Fr Stephen, to which all from STM and SJW are invited, will be held on Thursdays 17, 24 June and 1 July at 7pm for about 45 minutes. Please email one of the clergy for Zoom details.

COMMUNION FOR THE HOUSEBOUND As the Covid restrictions about going into private homes ease, it is possible to offer Communion once more to the housebound who ordinarily received it. If you are housebound and feel that you are ready and it is safe for you to receive Communion at home again, please contact one of the priests. You may or may not feel the time is right: that is entirely up to you.

READING AT MASS Henry Whitney is now kindly organising the return of readers at Mass.
